LADIES! LOOK YOUNG,
DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use the Old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and Nobody will Know.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from anywhere a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with the drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

AUSTRALIAN COUNCIL WANTS MORE RECRUITS

Nine Thousand a Month Said to Be the Lowest Minimum Needed.

Melbourne, Australia, Dec. 2.—"We want over 9,000 a month—that is the irreducible minimum," said Senator George F. Pearce, minister for defense, a few days ago in reference to recruiting in Australia.

"The army council has asked us to increase our percentage of reinforcements for the expeditionary forces. We have been sending them forward in a proportion of from 10 to 15 per cent—a total of about 6,500 per month. It has now been asked that we shall increase this to 20 per cent which will mean over 9,000 a month. This intimation should stimulate recruiting throughout the commonwealth as it shows that the need for men is increasing rather than decreasing. I feel sure that the manhood of the commonwealth will be capable of keeping up the requisite supply for the front." Thus far about 150,000 men have enlisted in Australia.

Gilgandra, a town of 2,500 inhabitants in the wheat region of New South Wales, has since blossomed into war fame by reason of the fact that a squad of thirty volunteers from that place have started on a 320-mile march to Sydney, to go into training there. The residents of the town contributed a thousand dollars toward the initial cost of the march, and all along the route donations of cash and articles of general use are being made by interested men and women, and at almost every stopping place fresh men are joining as volunteers. The movement was originated by the captain of the Gilgandra Rifle Club, William T. Hitchen, a store keeper, and has the approval of the defense department.

The march is attended by many picturesque features. Most of the men have lived all their lives on the western plains of the state, among the wheat fields, and a number of them, including a former Methodist minister named Lee, have, like Cincinnati in the old days in Rome, left their rippling crops to be reaped by neighbors while they go to war. Lee is a good speaker as he is doing most of the speech-making for the recruits at the rallies in the country towns. The men have been dubbed "the snowball army," and each man is called a "flake."

A group of forty-five South Sea Island volunteers, also recently arrived in Wellington, New Zealand, from the Cook group, sonorously sing popular war songs in English in their native tongue.

When the natives left the Cook Islands, their friends and relatives bade them farewell in native fashion by kissing their feet. When Wellington was reached the recruits marched to parliament house singing "Tipperary" and "Are We Downhearted?" in the language of the Cook Archipelago. The Maori members of parliament addressed them with patriotic speeches, after which there was a haka or Maori war dance by the Maori legislators.

MANY IDEAS SUGGESTED

Hearty Response to Call on Inventors and Scientists.

London, Dec. 2.—Between 5,000 and 6,000 ideas and suggestions have been placed before the British Munitions Inventions committee since its organization less than three months ago, says an official memorandum from Mr. Lloyd George, minister of munitions. "As is to be expected," adds the memorandum, "most of these were of small utility and have already been rejected. It would not be advisable to state the number that have been accepted."

"Inventors putting forward ideas are invited to attend a meeting of the committee if the committee desires. It would clearly not be possible for this to be done in every case. But wherever it appears desirable, persons putting forward ideas are interviewed by members of the technical staff attached to the department, who are men of experience and used to this class of work."

Money Relief Extended

Berlin, Dec. 2.—The money relief granted heretofore to the wives and children of soldiers has now been extended to parents and grandparents who are unable to support themselves, and also to all brothers and sisters under fifteen and to those above fifteen who are incapacitated from working. A condition precedent is that the soldier, whose relatives are thus assisted, shall have been their sole support before the war. The relief granted to wives and children has also been increased and is now fifteen marks monthly for wives and 7-12 marks for each child. Grandparents, parents and brothers and sisters affected also receive the latter sum monthly.

A Boomerang

"Call that art!" exclaimed a would-be critic, pointing to a painting in a studio. "If that dab is a work of art, then I'm an idiot."

The latter part of your statement," rejoined the artist calmly, "would seem to furnish conclusive proof that it is a work of art."

EARLY CLOSING NOW EXTENDS TO THE BANKS

London, Dec. 2.—The early closing movement in London, which began under compulsion with the saloons, and was next taken up by some of the big department stores, has now spread to the banks. After the first of December London banks will close their doors at three o'clock. Much of the work of bank clerks is done after public office hours, and the depletion of staffs due to enlistments in the army has made it necessary for the remaining men to work far into the night. The banks have decided to concentrate their counter work into a shorter period and thus give more reasonable working hours to their staffs.

Business men have been asked to sign checks before lunch, and an appeal has been made informally to the public to do banking business as early as possible. The three o'clock closing rule has been customary in several of the largest provincial cities for some years.

The largest department store in London led the way among shops by announcing five o'clock closing for the winter. Other large establishments are following its example. Late hours for holiday shoppers and the fierce rush of the week before Christmas, fainting sales girls and panting delivery clerks will not be seen this year.

The final blow to the night clubs has been administered in the form of an order compelling all clubs to close at 12:30, except on Saturday and Sunday nights, when they must be emptied at midnight. This regulation applies to all clubs from the most respectable old men's gathering places in the west end to the workingmen's resorts in the east end. But for the night clubs it makes business impossible. These concerns, where many young officers on leave have fallen into bad company, only begin their operations after the theatres have closed, and now no time is allowed for their activities.

AGAINST SWEATING SYSTEM

Progress in Paris Campaign by "Salary Committees."

Paris, Dec. 2.—Further progress in the campaign against the sweating system in Paris has been made by the appointment of "salary committees" in accordance with the law passed last July with the object of regulating working conditions in the homes of women engaged in the clothing industries. The law itself represents the successful conclusion of a social movement which has been going on in France for many years.

The committees, of which there are nine for the department of the Seine, consist each of five members, a justice of the peace presiding over four delegates, two representing the employers and two the women workers. As yet the law only deals with female workers, but it is expected that once a minimum wage has been fixed for women the male worker at home who receives a lower salary than this minimum can sue his employer and recover payment of the difference.

HAVE ROSY CHEEKS AND FEEL FRESH AS A DAISY—TRY THIS!

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best day in and day out, just try inside-bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of Limestone phosphate in it. As a harmless means of washing from the stomach liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and Limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the four fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of Limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and Limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, and those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of inside-bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.

LETTERS OF SOLDIERS SHOWS SPIRIT OF TROOPS

Paris, Dec. 2.—Letters written by German soldiers during the battle of Champagne, found on prisoners and dead, throw some light on the spirit of the troops.

"The battlefield has disappeared in a cloud of smoke," wrote one. "Nothing can be seen, for the French artillery fires almost as rapidly as the infantry. One armored shelter was crushed in and not one of the sixteen occupants escaped. Men are falling like flies and the trenches are nothing but debris."

"Shells are simply raining upon us," another wrote. "If the end were only near! This is the cry everyone should raise 'peace! peace!'" "Cruel hours," a captain noted in his diary. "It is as if the earth were crumbling up. Our losses are very heavy. One company of 250 men had 60 killed last night and a battery close by lost 16 dead. A shelter five yards deep, protected by two rows of logs and two and a half yards of earth, was caved in as if it were only a match; that's a specimen of the force of the French shells."

"Many to eat; heavy losses," noted another. "The French haven't ceased firing since the morning of the 21st; it has gone on 60 hours, how long will it last? Every spot of our position is so bombarded that it is next to impossible for human beings to hold out any longer."

"Six of our men were killed by shells yesterday morning," wrote a captain. "Our trench has been nearly level." The 11th battalion has suffered heavily.

How the reinforcements were rushed up is revealed by another officer. "We were crowded into autos," he wrote, "and rushed madly from Versailles to Tahir. After two hours rest in the rain and six hours march to our position under constant shell-fire, we reached the trench, losing 56 out of 280 men of the 2nd company by the way. We were 118 hours without food in a trench not two feet deep. Hell couldn't be worse. Six hundred more men just arrived; they will only replace the killed and wounded of the past five days."

Surprise and the demoralization of the German first line troops by sustained artillery fire have both been given as explaining the considerable number of prisoners taken. Orders of German commanders that fell into the hands of the French indicate that the attack was not a surprise and there has been a natural reluctance to believe that German organization and discipline were in default. Information obtained by the Associated Press from eye-witnesses of the operations is to the effect that the German counterattacks were neither spirited nor well planned.

If the attack was no surprise the force of it was a revelation; it appears to have thrown a certain confusion into the German ranks, resulting in precipitate and almost disorderly engagement of reserves. The men seemed both exhausted and demoralized—incapable of properly undertaking a general counterattack. Over-confidence in the solidity in the first line trenches seemed to be general among the officers, for many of them were found in bed at Trou-Bricot a half hour after the attack began. They were ignorant of the capture of the first line of trenches because the telephone wires had been ruptured.

In the counter-attacks divisions were broken up and scattered, remnants even were divided, battalions sent to right and left in absolute contradiction of the German spirit of organization. There were engaged between the Maison de Champagne and 139 Hill 32 battalions belonging to 21 different regiments.

What acted most on the nerves of the German troops, according to information brought out by questioning prisoners, was the continuity of the French artillery fire, the weakness of their own reply, the extent of their losses, lack of food for several days and thirst. They surrendered in sections in many instances and in whole companies in some. All acknowledged they were tired of the struggle.

A fact that is regarded as significant is that the reinforcements the Germans sent up during the battle were mostly of the contingent of 1915 with some volunteers of the contingent of 1916 previously held in reserve at their bases. The conclusion drawn by some military critics is that Germany is nearing the day when she will no longer be able to maintain her present force on all her lines.
